

Cheryl

Sherman Keene

[major]

Cheryl travels through the starry air

With Angels near (chords)

[minor]

The world and all it's lands are hers

For she lives there (chords)

[major]

The sunlight beams into each moment

When she smiles

And all the heavens give their rain

To wash away the hurt or pain

Should she be stranded
On the ground •••••

With eyes cast down •••• •••

And Cheryl flies on clouds of air

With Angels near

(Ohhhh the wings of man fly her away)

(chords)

And on her flight she flies with starlit eyes

In tune with love it shows I love her so

I cannot help but watch her though she knows

But now she lifts her golden head to fly away

And I, a mortal, only here can stay

And wait for her to fly again into my life someday

Cheryl, Cheryl can't you stay

The Wings Of Man fly her away . . .

(chords), (chords) . . .
